

Cargolux statement regarding Luxembourg judgment

Cargolux Airlines International S.A. (Cargolux) confirms that the Luxembourg court has today issued a judgment ratifying the plea agreement between Cargolux and the Luxembourg State Prosecutor regarding a matter of influence peddling in Gabon.

The judgment relates only to Cargolux and to conduct between 2010 and 2015 and does not concern any individuals. Cargolux self-declared the issue to the Luxembourg Public Prosecutor's Office in 2015 upon discovery and has fully cooperated with the authorities throughout the process. As a result of the judgment, Cargolux has agreed to pay penalties in aggregate of approximately EUR 1.15m.

Cargolux continually reviews and updates its compliance procedures, resulting in strengthened internal controls, enhanced compliance frameworks, and governance standards aligned with international best practice.

There is no impact on current operations, customer activity, or the services provided to customers.

Cargolux remains committed to operating ethically, transparently, and with integrity across all its activities.
