CACEIS recruits Eamonn O’Callaghan as ETF Group Product Manager

Eamonn O’Callaghan joined CACEIS on 9th June 2025 as ETF Group Product Manager in CACEIS Ireland. He has 25 years’ experience within the financial services industry, most of which has been working with ETF Issuers. He previously held the position of Head of European ETF Product with Brown Brothers Harriman and prior to this worked with BNY, HSBC and CITI. Eamonn O’Callaghan holds an M.Sc. in Information Technology for Strategic Management.

Exchange-Traded Funds (ETFs) play a significant role in Ireland’s financial landscape, both as a hub for ETF domiciliation and as an investment vehicle for individuals and institutions. Ireland has established itself as one of the leading global centres for ETF management, with favourable tax structures, a strong regulatory framework, and a well-developed financial services sector.

CACEIS administers over €125 billion in ETF assets on behalf of its clients, providing them access to its expertise, tools and network to help implement both active and passive ETFs. In addition to its state-of-the-art dealing portal with a bespoke service for authorised participants to access the ETF primary market, CACEIS has recently created a dedicated ETF business line. This new business line will support ETF clients across all aspects of service delivery, and is tailored to an ETF’s requirements. This puts CACEIS in an excellent position to support clients at every stage of the launch process and throughout the fund’s lifecycle.